

HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

Did you ever see so much fog?

Boy, we've really had it lately and we may as well admit it. In San Francisco they boast about their fog as though it were a civic asset; our climate is so much better than theirs that it won't do any harm to concede that we're familiar with fog on Point Loma.

Me, I wouldn't live anywhere else. It's cooler in summer and warmer in winter than, say, East San Diego or the downtown district, and there's no smog.

I'm getting used to the sound of foghorns or whatever those eerie noises are that emanate from somewhere. Tuesday night I became aware of a melodious bell ringing behind the white curtain.

One of these nights the weather will change and again the eastern horizon will glitter with a million lights.

In the meantime—maybe it's the "Adam Bomb" causing all this fog huh?

See where the proud citizens of Truth or Consequences, New Mexico, will be given an opportunity to vote on the town's name.

They can vote to keep it or go back to the old name of Hot Springs, changed in 1950 to advertise the radio program.

How would you like to live in a town named Amos & Andy, Arkansas? Or, I Love Lucy, Louisiana.

What immense civic pride must swell the chests of the 4,563 residents of Truth or Consequences when they reflect upon the splendid name borne by their town!

They really put it on the map, didn't they?

No, they didn't. They made it a snickering stock, a silly little buffoon among the self-respecting towns and cities of the U.S., when they greedily gulped a gag spawned by a Hollywood press agent.

It ain't even funny. It would gag a buzzard, California variety.

Those New Mexican buzzards ought to have their heads examined.

Maybe it's the "Adam Bomb."

CWU makes Pitch

For Big Oven

To Swallow Witch

Wanted: An oven large enough to swallow a witch, will light up and then collapse. Also in demand right now is a gingerbread fence that turns into people and a staircase that ascends into heaven.

Anyone having information leading to obtaining these items may contact Mrs. Walter Teutsch (AC-2-9010), in charge of staging and designing for the operatic production of "Hansel and Gretel," to be presented soon by the Opera Workshop of California Western University.

"Casting has been completed and now we need assistance for the mechanics of the opera," said Mrs. Teutsch. "Backstage workers are the sinew and bone of any stage production. Without the right kind of scenery, lighting, props and costumes, much of the effect is lost. Illusions that can be created for this fairy tale depend on an understanding of the action itself."

A university and community project, the Opera Workshop is composed of local talent from all parts of San Diego. The group will welcome as backstage assistants, anyone who can hammer a nail, swing a paint brush, or sew a straight seam.

COFFEE PARTIES & LONG HIKE TO FEATURE MARCH OF DIMES

A county-wide "Koffee Klatch" at homes and restaurants for the March of Dimes Monday morning at 10 o'clock and the start of a marathon walk by Pat Thienes that same day to some 27 communities and cities in the county will highlight next week's events in the current polio fund drive.

More than a thousand residents in San Diego City and County have been invited to hold coffee parties in their homes Monday and watch a "Koffee Klatch" program on Channel 8 from 10 to 10:30 a.m. Each person attending a coffee party is expected to contribute $1 to the March of Dimes.

In addition, restaurants have been asked to contribute to the fund all money received for coffee during that half hour.

Mrs. Quintin Whelan, "Koffee Klatch" chairman, said that the television program will consist of a coffee party, a panel of experts on the polio situation and a 12-minute film showing the ravages of infantile paralysis during 1955.

Thienes, known as San Diego's "Walking Man," will time the end of his hike with a candle lighting ceremony in San Diego preliminary to the January 31 "Mothers' March."

He will take off from Children's Hospital on Kearney Mesa at 8 o'clock Monday morning and walk to Linda Vista, Old Town, Hillcrest, North Park, and downtown San Diego.

Tuesday he will walk to the Naval Training Station, Ocean Beach, Mission Beach, Pacific Beach and La Jolla.

His schedule then calls for a hike through north-county communities and back through El Cajon, National City, etc.

During his hike March of Dimes groups throughout the county will greet and entertain him.

JANUARY SALES BIG SUCCESS IN O. B. SHOPPING CENTER

January Sales advertised in last week's issue of the Peninsula News are attracting bigger crowds than any previous January sales in the Ocean Beach shopping center.

Residents of the Peninsula area responded enthusiastically to the bargains advertised in the 12-page January Sales section. Clothing for the entire family, white sales items, furniture, appliances and hardware were among the merchandise items featured in the Sales.

January Sales in the Ocean Beach shopping center will continue throughout the month.

Merchants urge residents not to delay too long in making their selections, due to the rapid turnover of merchandise.

Other new officers are Mrs. Clyde Wood, vice-president; Mrs. William Knopp, secretary; Mrs. John Wilhoit Jr., treasurer, and Mrs. Joe Kenneally, historian. Directors are Mrs. Harry Masters, Mrs. Louis Fleetwood, Mrs. Jack Stephenson, and the retiring president, Mrs. Russell Bemont.

This civic-minded group of women celebrated their 15th anniversary in community service last year, and they will honor all former presidents Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Fleetwood will act as roll-call chairman and give a brief resume of the purpose of Kiwanis-Annes, which is to aid the needy and underprivileged in such ways as Christmas baskets of food and clothing and contributions to the Door of Hope.

For the past two years their main object has been to help the Kiwanis Club in supplying their kitchen needs at the Kiwanis Youth Activities Bldg. in Ocean Beach.

The O. B. Kiwanis Club is the only club in the 21st division that owns its own building. During 1955, some 157 scouting activities were held there to further educational and recreational programs.

Mrs. Masters will be hostess Tuesday evening in charge of decorations and appointments.

At a recent meeting, officers elected in addition to Smallwood were 'Ole' Olsen, vice-president, and Mrs. Jeanne Downey, secretary.

Dance Party Friday

Approximately 200 junior high boys and girls will attend a dance party Friday evening, Jan. 13, at 7 o'clock at the Ocean Beach Community Center.

Sponsored by the seventh and eighth grade Girl Scouts of Point Loma, Ocean Beach, Pacific Beach and La Jolla, this will be the first joint activity of Section B Junior High Planning Board.

Troops participating from Dana are under the leadership of Mmes. William Miller, R. D. Brumagim, John R. Benedict and William R. Stoker. Mrs. Brumagim is advisor for Section B.

He will fight Baby Camacho in the main event. There will be four preliminary bouts.

In Cooke's two years of pro boxing, only four fights have gone the distance; his over-all record shows 14 wins, two losses and a draw. He has won 11 bouts by knockouts.

Pro boxing is scheduled each Monday night at the San Diego Arena.

INDIANS—Black Hawk, left, a Sioux, and Chief Running Elk, an Oneida, are two of the three Indians who will be featured in a dance program at a meeting of the Cabrillo Club Saturday, Jan. 14 at 8 p.m. in the SES Hall, Point Loma, according to Raul Fernandes, president. Also on the program are Danny MacLeod, Scot bagpiper, and Johnnie Pethley, drummer. Dancers from a local studio will perform. Special guests will be children of St. Agnes School and their parents.

CAMP FIRE GIRLS TO START ANNUAL PEANUT SALE FRIDAY

There's a good reason why Friday, January 13 is circled on the calendars of Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls in Point Loma and Ocean Beach and throughout the county.

For tomorrow is the day that nearly 2500 Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls go into the peanut business as their annual peanut sale gets under way.

Heading the sale in the Point Loma-Ocean Beach area is Mrs. Robert Hoover, who announces that the chairman of the peanut distribution center for this area is Mrs. Daniel F. Bettencourt, 4719 Del Monte.

Mrs. Hoover said that the peanut sale is important to each Blue Bird and Camp Fire Girl because they know it provides funds for improvements and maintenance of their two camps: Camp Wolahi, summer playground in Cuyamaca Mountains and Camp Loligo, the girls day camp in Balboa Park, plus extension of membership and local services through the County Council.

The young sales girls, ranging in age from 7 to 18, are out to sell 100,000 cans of peanuts by Jan. 29 when the sale winds up.

The vacuum packed Virginia blanched peanuts in an attractive Camp Fire package will sell for 50c per can.

All girls who participate in the sale will be guests at a theatre party set for Feb. 11. To all girls who sell 48 cans, a certificate of merit will be awarded, with a gold star added for each 6 additional cans sold.

More than 1200 Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls used the facilities at the two campsites during the past year.

LADIES OF THE ELKS

City Action Ends Threat Of Local Sewage Plant

Any threat of a sewage plant on Point Loma apparently was dissipated this week following action of the City Council in approving the plan for a treatment plant and ocean outfall at Imperial Beach.

Details of the financing and preliminary engineering are expected to be completed soon so the Council can call a bond issue election in June.

In June, 1954, a bond issue for a Point Loma plant and ocean outfall was defeated at the polls.

Action of the council came after a Citizens Sewer Committee recommended the City build a $26,800,000 sewer system with treatment plant and ocean outfall at Imperial Beach. This site had been recommended by three consulting engineers hired by the city, although their alternatives were a Point Loma location or sites at both Imperial Beach and Point Loma.

WELFARE, RECREATION NEEDS DESCRIBED BY 500 CITIZENS

Civic leaders told the public yesterday what more than 500 citizens consider San Diego County's most pressing health, welfare and recreation needs.

Heading the list were:

A preventive program for dental health, including fluoridation.

A single fund campaign for all Community Chests in the county and possibly a unified fund appeal for all private welfare agencies.

Establishment of an alcoholic rehabilitation and treatment center in San Diego.

More playgrounds.

More adequate mental health and family service facilities.

Financial assistance and medical care for the chronically ill.

Greater county-wide coordination of health and welfare planning.

The recommendations were made in interim reports on the Community Services Inventory at the Balboa Park Club yesterday. Sponsored by the San Diego Community Welfare Council, the Inventory is the most comprehensive study of its kind ever made in this area and the first to be undertaken since 1927.

In preparing it more than 500 civic-minded citizens have studied and analyzed every phase of health, welfare and recreation services available to the public throughout the county. A final report on the Inventory will be given to the public in June.

The Inventory, made at the suggestion of the San Diego Area Community Chest, is aimed at finding unmet public needs and avoiding duplication of agency services. Other highlights of yesterday's reports were:

One of the most serious "hidden costs" in health, welfare and recreation programs is in staff turnover. In many agencies, including some of the big public services, it runs as high as 33 per cent a year. The State Department of Social Welfare estimates the extra cost of hiring and training a new social worker at $1900.

The present costly burden on society of prisons, mental hospitals and long-continued public assistance could be reduced through early case-finding of potential delinquents, intensive treatment of mental patients at the onset of their illness, active rehabilitation of public welfare recipients and improved employment opportunities for the elderly.

An Inventory committee on background for planning also made an intensive study of the economy of San Diego County. Headed by Graydon Hoffman, the committee reported these findings:

San Diego County has been since 1940 the fastest growing metropolitan area in the nation and the probability is that this rapid growth will continue at least until 1960, though at a somewhat diminished rate.

The population growth has been distributed rather evenly over the county, suggesting healthy development.

Contrary to popular myth, San Diego is not a community heavily populated by older people. The percentage of people here who are 65 or below the national average.

Increase in economic activity, buying power and other financial indices has been greater even than the increase in population, which rose 92.4 percent from 1940 to 1950 and 47 percent from 1950 to 1955.

Although the county is lightly touched by slums, acute poverty or high delinquency, it has failed to keep pace with population growth in the development and support of social services.

Seven members of the cast will take the same role in all productions. Otherwise, the play is double cast with 24 other youngsters playing 12 roles on alternating evenings.

Board of Directors of Junior Theatre is now preparing the schedule of classes and activities for the spring semester in anticipation of the largest enrollment to date. The spring term will begin in February with registration on January 28, 30 and 31.

Highway Deaths Total 177 In '55

Traffic fatalities in San Diego County during 1955 totaled 177 to make it the worst highway death year since 1952, the Traffic Safety Council announced.

The 1955 toll was 11 more than 1954, eight more than the 168 killed in 1953, and 57 below the 233 who were slaughtered in 1952.

"The only bright spot in the entire year was the absence of highway deaths on Christmas weekend," the Council said. "However, the horrible toll accumulated throughout the nation that weekend and our own bad county record for 1955 gives us little room to boast."

The total number of county traffic accidents last year is estimated at 13,492, an increase of 1,200 over the previous year. Eighty-two of the persons killed in the county in 1955 were drivers of the vehicles involved.

Other classifications of 1955 victims: pedestrians, 32; passengers, 62; under 17 years old, 9; and servicemen, 47. The number of passengers and servicemen killed was higher than in 1954. The driver death toll was also an increase over the previous year.

Deaths in the county's rural areas in 1955 totaled 99 as compared to 92 the year before. Fatality totals for county cities other than San Diego, where there were 57 deaths, were: Chula Vista, 6; National City, 4; Coronado, 2; La Mesa, 2; El Cajon, none; Carlsbad, none; Oceanside, 3 and Escondido, 4.

Gasoline powered motor vehicles transport some 77 per cent of the freight in the United States, according to the National Automobile Club.

Peninsula PERSONALITIES

By AVIS TONE

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Thomas were hosts recently to a former San Diego couple, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Forsythe, who drove from Santa Monica to spend the past week here.

Present house-guests at the Thomas residence on Devonshire Drive are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Steadman of Des Moines, Iowa. The visitors left Dallas, Texas where they had been spending the holidays with relatives, and arrived here by plane earlier this week.

Miss Cary Head has returned to her home on Voltaire from a two week vacation during which she visited with relatives in Texas.

Welcome guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cy Ward on Hill St., were Mr. Ward's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ward, whom they hadn't seen for 15 years. Traveling with them were the two children, 14-year-old Paul, and 13-year-old Steven.

The visitors made a three-day stop here on their way to Mexico from San Francisco.

Fifteen-year-old Jerry Kowitz traveled by airliner from Chicago, to spend a week here with his mother, Mrs. Mary Kowitz in her home on Voltaire.

When the Mediterranean regions are brought up for class discussion at the schools attended by the two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bergstad, both Betty Kristine, who is a senior at Point Loma, and Tove Maria, Dana Jr. High, will be well qualified to relate some first hand experiences gathered there.

The family spent several years in Europe during which the girls attended Norwegian schools for two years and made many enlightening trips around the Mediterranean vicinity.

Mr. Bergstad, recently retired from the Navy, has brought his family back here from Rhode Island to reside in their own home in the 4300 block on Dumas. The Bergstads are happy to be back in the area where, ten years ago, they purchased this home.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Gay and their 10-year-old son Michael are happily looking forward to settling in their own home on Chatsworth Blvd., which is at present in the process of being re-decorated.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Wieland, who are originally from Poughkeepsie, New York, have found this climate so agreeable that they have purchased a home in the 2800 block on Chatsworth.

Their three daughters Barbara, Janice and baby Holly are of one accord with their parents choice.

Whales Add Zest To Sportfishing Off Point Loma

Deep sea anglers continued to make exceptional catches of red cod, ling, chilipeppers, and cow cod this week, but the appearance of migrating grey whales off Point Loma was proving an equally great attraction to tourists and camera bugs.

While assisting the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in the annual census, San Diego sportfishing boats launched regular runs to permit the public to view and photograph the whales at close range, and reported no difficulty in tracking the big greys for long distances. Three trips daily were scheduled—10 a.m., 12:30 and 3 p.m. from the Municipal Sportfishing Pier, foot of Fenelon St.

At the same time, rod and reelers got a chance to kill two birds with one stone. In addition to getting plenty of action at the fishing grounds west of Point Loma, fishermen frequently got a chance to observe the whales at close range as well.

The Coronado Islands, home of the big yellowtail and bonito, went virtually unfished this week, but anglers more than made up for lost time at the regular rock cod grounds, and single boat catches often ranged well above the 400 mark.

Among Point Loma and Ocean Beach anglers who did exceptionally well with the red cod and chilis were: F. E. Barnes, John Williams, J. W. Wilkes, and F. L. Higgins, the latter topping off his catch with an 18 pound cow cod.

Step Into A Wallpaper Garden

To get away from a pushing, hurrying world, you might step into your own quiet Oriental garden right in your living room.

The decorating trick that fools your eye in the above photograph is a scenic wallpaper. Flowering branches bid you welcome as you enter. They are backed by delicate traceries of mountains, a pagoda, bamboo bridge and a quiet stream.

Against this Oriental background, the contemporary furnishings—a settee, table and chest of drawers—gain dramatic emphasis.

While designer-artists have surpassed any previous creations in scenic and repeat patterns with a scenic effect, the great diversity in wallpapers of all types makes it easier than ever to find designs to fit any background, whether traditional, provincial or modern.

Supposing your problem is a jutting protrusion or dreary structural beam. Wallpaper won't do a Houdini and whisk away the ugly job, but the right paper can give an optical illusion of a continuous wall.

Many current papers have widely-spaced designs on light backgrounds. These designs can open-out a cramped, hemmed-in room and give the illusion of open-airiness and space.

With a few strokes of a brush, wallpaper can do more than any other single thing to beautify a room.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Since the world began, getting people to do what's good for them has been a major problem. This has always been particularly true, and especially important, in the field of medicine.

Persuading a child to take some bad-tasting medicine because "it's good for him" is a problem every parent faces. When we grow up we presume that we are sensible enough to do what's good for us, particularly where our health is concerned. But are we? Take a good look at tuberculosis, for example.

Tuberculosis is a disease whole power to kill and cripple has been reduced as a result of medical advances. Today its victims have an excellent chance to overcome their disease and lead useful lives if they find the disease early and listen to their doctors after they begin treatment. But often medical science is hindered by the fact that people themselves haven't changed very much!

If all victims of tuberculosis followed medical advice carefully, much greater progress against the disease could be made. But tuberculosis is a disease that often requires much self-discipline during a long period of treatment, a disease that may bring in its wake heavy financial and personal problems. Because tuberculosis patients are people they find it hard to "take their medicine."

They Walk Out

Sometimes patients walk out of hospitals or sanatoriums before their doctor says they should, or disobey his instructions after they are permitted to return home and continue their treatment "on their own." One might say, "What's the difference? They're only hurting themselves."

But that's not always the case. Many persons who leave tuberculosis hospitals "against medical advice" endanger their communities because they can spread infectious TB germs. What to do about these people who don't know what's good for them—and their communities—is a problem.

There are two schools of thought on what to do. The "carrot" group is against compulsion, believing that proper education of the patient will convince him that he must obey his doctor. The "stick" wielders feel that anyone who is a danger to the community should be forced by law to remain under treatment. Some states, subscribing to the "stick" theory, have passed laws making hospitalization compulsory for certain tuberculosis patients.

Until all patients learn what's really good for them, the question of "the carrot or the stick" will be an important public health problem.

Contest Open To Jr. High Students

A $25 Government Savings Bond and 10 trophies will be awarded to the junior high school students writing the best slogan this month on dental hygiene.

The contest, sponsored by the San Diego County Dental Hygienists Association, will close January 27.

Seventh, eighth and ninth grade students in all city, county and parochial schools are eligible. Prizes will be awarded at a luncheon to be given by the San Diego County Dental Society on March 7 during National Children's Dental Health Week.

The savings bond will be presented by the Hygienists Association to the grand sweepstakes winner. Trophies, donated by the San Diego County Dental Auxiliary, will go to the first, second and third place student in each of the three junior high school grades.

Mrs. Ruth Martin, president of the hygienists, said the contest has the support of the schools. The contest theme, she said, is "It's the brushing that counts."

Each winning pupil and the teacher in whose class the slogan was written will be guests of the Dental Society at the Dental Health Day Luncheon, Mrs. Martin said.

She gave these contest rules: The slogans must be 20 words or less. They may be written in ink or typewritten. Each slogan submitted should include personal signature, grade and name of school.

School principals will forward the three best slogans from each grade to Mrs. Martin, 4556 E. Talmadge Drive, San Diego, for final judging. Slogans will be judged on continuity, grammar and the best original thought on the importance of oral health.

Captain Pearce made the first recorded ascent of Mount Shasta in 1854, according to the National Automobile Club.

Use Preswood Bed-Board
WHEN the doctor recommends a bed-board, get one from a lumber dealer. Ask him for a piece of Masonite 1/4" Tempered Preswood, a smooth hardboard that's splinter-free and easily kept clean.

Only simple preparation of the board is required. Round the edges slightly and bevel the edges of the smooth side lightly with a file or sandblock.

Tempered Preswood is a widely-used fix-up material. With the cutoffs from the bed-board, you can make a kitchen cupboard, for example, by covering the hardboard surface with a slating material available at paint stores.

Wherever a strong, moisture-resistant panel is needed, try this material. It has no grain, no splinters, no knots. It may be sawed, planed, filed, nailed, screwed, glued or riveted. Experienced handicrafters say they always keep a supply of Masonite Tempered Preswood on hand.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Of late, many readers ask purpose behind current drive being conducted by field force of National Federation of Independent Business.

They are referring to vigorously promoted "Trade Independent" campaign.

Purpose behind this is not to be "anti-anything," but rather to take a positive approach to a current pressing problem.

Neither is it sufficient to merely state local independent retailers supply a large share of nation's employment, or that they make heavy contributions both in form of taxes and donations to civic improvement and betterment.

For there is far greater import. Without a successful and large corps of independent retailers across the nation, progress would stagnate, and this stagnation would back up to the payrolls of independent manufacturers and packers.

In fact, there would be little new pioneered in market place unless this corps of independent retailers were available.

As anyone who has attempted to market a new brand or product knows, huge multi-unit retail operations are the last to take on the item or brand.

Many sales executives working on a new item or brand have often heard some headquarters buyer say "Well, if there is a demand for this product, or we have calls for it, we will discuss it. But we are not engaged in pioneering anything."

Use only distilled water in your car battery, advises the National Automobile Club. Regardless of how pure other water may be it is not pure enough for this use.

Kitchen Utility Board

EVEN in the most modern kitchen, a utility board for Mother's convenience is a necessary item. A handy one is about 20 by 24 inches, cut from Masonite Tempered Preswood, the hardboard that is splinter-free, extremely smooth and moisture-resistant. It won't absorb odors, either, and can be cleaned easily with a damp cloth.

Such a board, with its corners rounded and edges lightly beveled with a sandblock or file, has various uses in the kitchen and about the house. One of the common ones, a pie board, is illustrated. Here are some of the other uses for a kitchen utility board:

- To protect table tops from extremely hot dishes or from being scratched by sharp cutlery.
- As a sandwich or salad board.
- For cooling hot pies or cakes.
- For a lapboard on which to write letters or jot down menus.
- As a mat on the kitchen range.
- As a surface for cracking nuts or doing small kitchen repairs.
- As a tray for clearing the dining room table.

Southern Pacific Company Reviews Year Of 'Record Outlay' In 1955

Southern Pacific Company made a record outlay of $117 million for capital improvements during 1955 and launched major programs whose greatest impact will be felt in the future, D. J. Russell, president, reported in a year-end review.

In addition, the railroad continued projects started last year, among them the $7 million ultra-modern classification yard near Houston, Texas, to be completed in February.

Looking to 1956, Russell commented that the S. P. expects traffic movements "comparable to the good volume enjoyed by our lines in 1955."

He reviewed these major 1955 developments: A start on converting a switching yard at Eugene, Ore., to still another "radar-operated" facility; a start on the stalling remote-control devices to increase capacity of 114 miles of line in Southern California; completion of 844 miles of pipeline to carry re-financed petroleum products into Arizona from Texas and California; and deliveries of 2,948 freight cars and 169 diesel locomotive units.

He pointed out that the latter deliveries chiefly include prior year's orders and only a small portion of 1955's over-all orders for 14,725 freight cars, for about $124 million, and 136 diesel units for another $34 million.

The rail president reported that Pacific Fruit Express Company, in which S. P. shares ownership with Union Pacific, received 200 new "super-giant" mechanically refrigerated cars during the year, and was authorized to acquire or convert 375 more, plus acquiring 1,800 standard "refers."

Referring to facility improvement Russell said that the $5-1/2 million conversion of the Eugene yard, when completed in 1957, will permit handling 3,500 freight cars daily, against 2,000 today.

He noted first unit of the $34 million pipeline project is expected to go into operation the first week of January.

Other 1955 achievements included new freight-train services to the Pacific Northwest; improved schedules throughout the system; and adding more full-length dome-lounge and "hamburger grill" cars to passenger service.

During 1955, he went on, the railroad extended its popular trailer-on-flatcar ("piggyback") service into more areas of California, Oregon, Arizona, Texas and Louisiana, and also into the Midwest by linking S. P.'s "piggyback" with that of the company's affiliate, the St. Louis & Southwestern (Cotton Belt).

Volume of this service also increased, from 3,800 vans handled in 1953 when it was new, to about 50,000 this year. S. P. also acquired or ordered 1,044 trailers as well as 780 tractors and trucks.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority

Everyone hopes he can avoid an accident, but not all are that fortunate. If you become involved, you'll find these tips worth remembering. REMAIN at the scene of the accident. It's illegal—and immoral—to leave.

RENDER assistance or obtain medical help if needed. Be very careful with injured people; confine your aid to keeping them warm and controlling bleeding, unless you have completed a standard first aid course.

GATHER the facts. Ask the other driver involved in the accident for his name, address, license number, registration, car make and insurance company. Get the names and addresses of all occupants of the other car. Make a diagram of the accident showing car positions and directions cars were traveling.

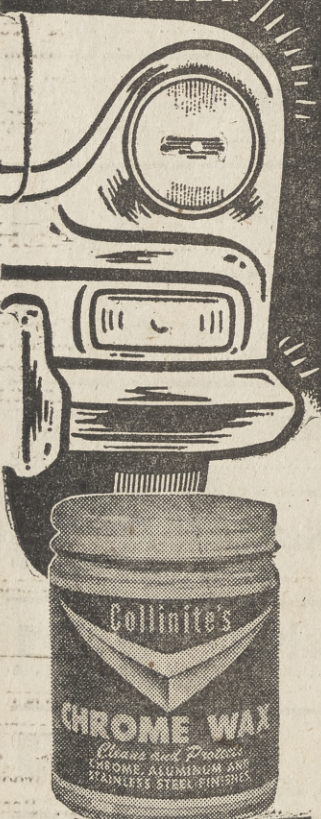

CALL the police. In all but very minor accidents, call the city police or highway patrol. The officer will take charge and fill out an accident report. It's a good idea not to discuss the accident with anyone but the police and your insurance company.

ASK for witnesses. Take down the names and addresses of any bystanders who may have seen the accident happen.

REPORT any accident you're involved in to your insurance company as soon as possible. Make a report regardless of the seriousness of the accident.

ALWAYS have your license, insurance card, and car registration with you whenever you drive your car. A pad and pencil in the glove compartment will prove handy for any information you may have to take down.
